Conservatives claim party stability

Premier Davis speaks in Lindsay

Stability and leadership can only be gained by re-electing the Progressive Conservative government, said Premier William Davis, at a Conservative rally held last Friday at Lindsay Collegiate. He said the Liberal party has "no real policies and no direction." He spoke of a "charter for Ontario" which he released Thursday while speaking at his own nomination meeting in Brampton, and circulated across the province by advertisements in many large newspapers.

"It is a document which we believe will lay the groundwork for a new period of development," he said. "It is fair for the people to know what principles government is using," he continued, adding that he is laying out his party's principles for everyone to assess.

Some of the promises of the 21-point charter include: creation of 100,000 new jobs each year for the next decade; a target of 900,000 housing starts by 1987; assurance of a food supply for all Ontarians based on the preservation of farmland increased per-acre production, effective marketing of surplus exports and continuing support for farmers; a commitment to replace two trees for every one harvested in Ontario and re-generation of every acre harvested; restrictions on the size and cost of government, along with the objective of a balanced budget by 1981.

Other points are: a promise that Northern Ontario residents will have access to the same social and cultural advances as those in the south; reduction and eventual elimination of municipal taxes for the majority of Ontario's senior citizens; encouragement of growth of the small business sector, and fair profit as a spur to the provinces economic expansion; outlawing of strikes and lockouts in such sectors of the economy as provincial government services, combined with more advanced labour-management negotiations to reduce work stoppages in other labour sectors; and increasing the sale of Ontario-produced goods and services outside Canada, by five per cent per year.

"We see our political party as the agency through which people who share our values, embrace our principles, accept our goals, can express their will with respect to the future of Ontario, and those who shall govern its future," said Mr. Davis.

"A government and a political party must earn the trust of the people, must earn it through their work, through their policies, and through laying out clearly what it is they stand for, what it is they care about, and how they intend to advance those principles and concerns," he said.

He charged that the NDP has a manifesto and a philosophy which they would hope to obscure. "Unlike others, we are proud of what we stand for and why," he said.

Challenge issued

"I issue a challenge to him (Liberal Leader, Dr. Stuart Smith) tonight Jim. I suggest you issue the challenge to the Liberal candidate," said Premier William Davis, referring to the Liberal "commitment to gradually raise prices of gasoline to world prices."

He was speaking to Jim Webster, Progressive Conservative Candidate for Victoria-Haliburton at a Progressive Conservative rally held in Lindsay last Friday.

"I challenge him to disavow the commitment," said the premier, adding that the Liberal plan would be an economic disaster costing the province millions of dollars. "And I anticipate another turn-around in Liberal policy," he said.

Mr. Webster, standing to speak after the premier, did not issue the challenge, but his speech did centre on issues mentioned by the premier, stability and leadership.

Addressing himself to the young people in Victoria-Haliburton County, he said he wanted to discuss the phrase "stability in government."

Referring to the current nostalgia wave, he said, "It merely underlines my belief that the current wave of interest...indicates that perhaps those basics had a lot more value than we tend to give them."

"The Progressive Conservative Government of Ontario, in its conduct of the people's business, has reflected the kind of integrity that existed a few generations ago when a man was as good as his word and his honesty was confirmed with a handshake."

Switching to the topic of leadership he said, "Sound administration, the personal integrity and ability of Premier Davis has earned for Ontario an A-1 credit rating on the money markets."

"We do not need to change from the basic values of the people who settled

Hamburgers and lemonade at event

There were hamburgers and lemonade with music, to keep more than 400 persons occupied while they waited for Premier William Davis at a Progressive Conservative Rally, last Friday.

The event took place on the football field of Lindsay's Collegiate and Vocational School from 7 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. The crowd was first entertained by the Kinsman pipe band and then a group called Hoopla.

Mr. Davis arrived by private coach around 8 p.m., preceded by a marching band, the Kawartha Kavaliers. The crowd surged about him as he began to circulate and shake hands. One woman asked him to autograph a $20 bill which he did.

On the same coach was PC candidate, Jim Webster, with his wife Liz and the Premier's wife.

While in the crowd Mr. Webster and the Premier were involved with some horseplay, throwing a football around. Then they proceeded to the platform to be introduced by MP Bill Scott.

Road closing rescinded

Haliburton County Council has rescinded a bylaw passed April 20 that might have closed road allowance along the shore of a part of Clear Lake in Lutterworth Township.

The decision was moved last Wednesday by Reg Booth, reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden, and seconded by Murray Fearrey reeve of Dysart et al.

"Council rescinded the bylaw because, in my opinion, it doesn't reflect the information that was given to the members at the last meeting," said Mr. Fearrey later.

"When that bylaw was passed, it was a mistake," said Mr. Booth in session, noting that there was no presentation, or drawing and that if members had a clearer idea of the bylaw, it would not have passed.

Mr. Conaghan later cited lack of concern for the cottagers by Mr. Booth as the reason. "This was purely political," he added.

Mr. Fearrey pointed out in session other means of solving the road closing without losing the shoreline allowance, but Mr. Conaghan said later that there is no other way of dealing with the problem.

Mr. Fearrey said that the bylaw had been read to the council by Mr. Conaghan but, "It is impossible to absorb the wording of a bylaw without the survey."

Mr. Conaghan said later that the bylaw affects the south end of Clear Lake. He said that a cottage placed between the lake and a curving road is in the path of a proposed road straightening plan.

He then explained that there is no other way "because the people will not trade with us," Mr. Fearrey had suggested in session that a portion of the allowance be traded for the property to build on, but Mr. Conaghan replied then that couldn't be done.

Youngster burnt while kite flying

A 13 year old West Guilford youngster is in satisfactory condition, in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, after suffering burns to his hands and the right side of his body as the result of a kite flying accident Sunday.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that Terry Griffin, son of Noel Griffin, received the burns when a kite he was flying, with steel line, landed on some hydro wires.

The accident also touched off a grass fire. The accident took place at 1 p.m. near County Road 7 east of West Guilford.

Man is charged with break-in Rodney Allan Kirkpatrick, 28, of Toronto, has been charged with a break-in in the Raven Lake area.

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police point out that Kirkpatrick was charged following an investigation by an officer from the detachment.

Kirkpatrick is presently in the Provincial Jail, in Lindsay.

Toronto women drowns in Minden

A 19-year-old Toronto woman is dead as the result of drowning in the Gull River, in the Rotary Beach area north of Minden, Saturday at 3:25 p.m.

Maria Rosa Marchese, of Boon Ave., Toronto, was swimming in the river when according to the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police she apparently got into the fast water and went under.

The OPP point out that she was taken to Minden Red Cross Hospital where resuscitation was continued to no avail.

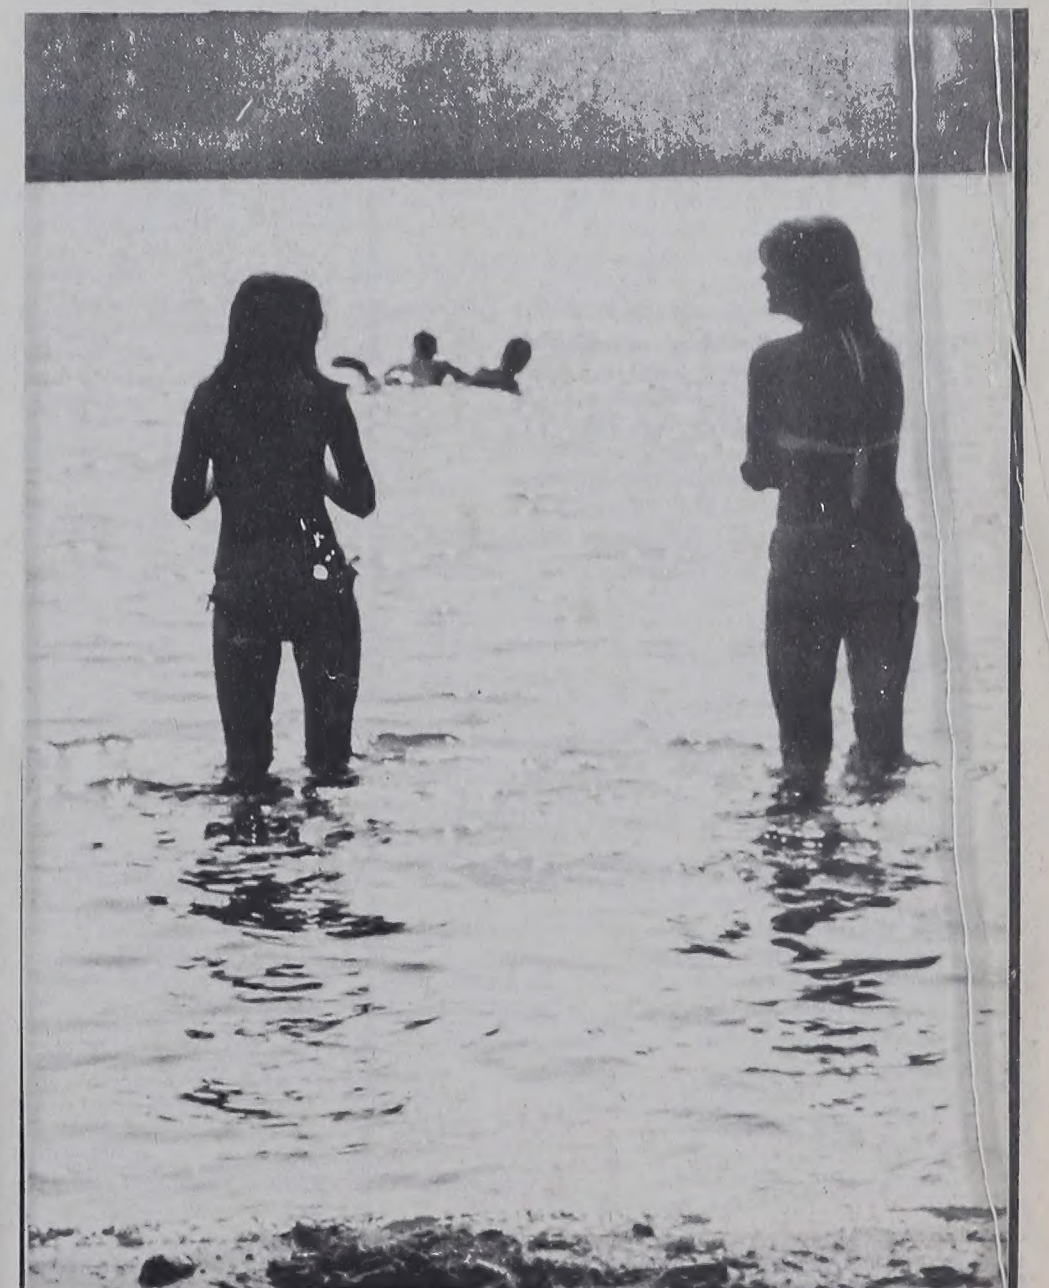

There will be no inquest to the drowning.

A spokesman for the Minden detachment of the OPP pointed out that signs had been posted at the beach but had been ripped down by vandals and were not standing at the time of the drowning.

Kelly Bird of Victoria Street School's Kindergarten reaches out to receive her Silver Jubilee medal last Friday. The students had drawn Canadian flags and signs featuring commonwealth countries. The medals, sponsored by the province, featured the provincial crest on one side and the Queen on the other.

Wendy Feir and Kim McDonald were at Rotary Beach this Monday, along with crowds of Haliburton residents who filled the beach all weekend in response to temperatures in the seventies.

Council informed on Health Care

Three persons associated with health care in Haliburton County appeared before County Council last week "to make sure council is better informed."

They were Miss Ethel Hounslow, Public Health Nursing Supervisor, Haliburton County, Mrs. Marlene Edwards, Administrator of Home Care and Mrs. Margaret Fullis, nurse-in-charge, Victorian Order of Nurses.

They presented council with a description of their various jobs and said they were willing to answer any questions council might want to ask.

Miss Hounslow said comments made by Sinclair Nesbitt, Reeve of Stanhope Township, during the April meeting of council indicated that he had some misconceptions about health care.

At that meeting Reeve Nesbitt had said, "we are paying for something we aren't getting at all from the VON, or the Health Unit."

Mrs. Edwards pointed out last Wednesday, in a diagram, that the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge Health Unit is funded 75 per cent by the province and only 25 per cent by counties. She explained that the Health Unit only administers the Home Care Program, which provides the VON

Reeve Nesbitt notes that his father had not even known about Home Care

AN OPEN LETTER TO CONCERNED VOTERS

Dear Concerned Voter:

Your vote on June 9th could well be the most important one you have ever cast. It will play a vital part in deciding the future of this province and, consequently, the future of all of us who live here.

Your personal decision is important to both of us; it's your vote I want so that when the new Legislature is formed, led by Premier William Davis, you and I will share a mandate that will enable us to advance Ontario and Canada's course.

A STRONG ONTARIO IS ESSENTIAL TO A STRONG CANADA.

If you are hesitant in making the important decision required of you June 9th, let me respectfully remind you that the Progressive Conservative Government is committed to a program that ensures a greater degree of fairness for Ontario's Society.

Further, let me quote Premier Davis in his reference to legislation in the next government:

"Every major bill that the government has introduced or proposed to introduce...will be enacted by the new Legislature in as expeditious a manner as we can command."

I believe your choice will be made on the key issues of job creation, controlling the cost of living, protecting incomes and the stability of government in Ontario.

My stand is simply that I am not interested in power but rather in progress. Progress has been all but impossible over the past 20 months of government forced into a position of caution and dependency.

The Government's efforts to lead and to provide the imagination, the opportunity and the good judgement that would enable all of us to enjoy to the full the wonderful benefits of life in Ontario, have been frustrated by a combined opposition.

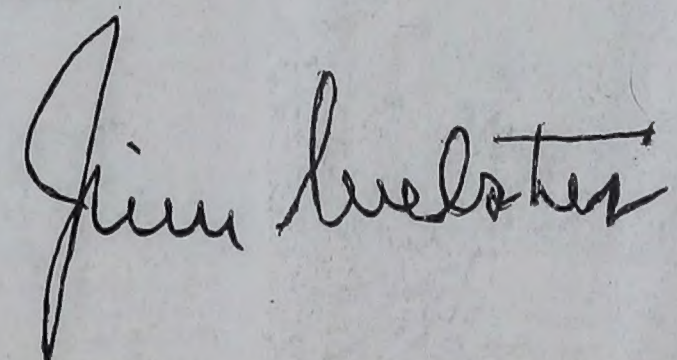

The opposition has never offered any sound alternatives to government legislation.

The Government needs a mandate for the program that has been proposed to protect and serve Ontario now and in the future.

I have every confidence in your ability to choose wisely once you have weighed all the issues and realize that we share a mutual concern for Victoria Haliburton.

I promise you that I will respond to your support at polls by giving my best effort on your behalf.

Yours Truly

Funds: Amount Could Affect Service.

He points out that although the story itself is correct, Wayne Wood is supervisor of the Haliburton Ambulance Service only, not the county-wide system. Also, it should be clear that the amount of $522,000 in wages is a projected amount for the coming provincial fiscal year of 15 months.

Conservative Charter criticized

The recently released "charter for Ontario" from the Progressive Conservatives, was described as "A broad statement of principles and undefined commitments, none startlingly new and expensive, it includes some bald updates of the 34-year-old promises of then Conservative leader, George Drew," in a Viewpoint story in the Globe and Mail, by Richard Williamson, May 21.

"Laced with words like freedom, trust, security social justice, fair profits and fair wages and confidence in the future, the charter represents the Tory strategy of wooing the middle ground," said the story. It added that the Conservatives were fighting the Liberals for middle-of-the-road votes, while keeping the traditional right wing conservative vote.

It quoted George Drew, former premier, as saying 34 years ago, "Perhaps you might ask why these things, which are so desirable today, have not already been made law by this Government."

Mr. Williamson isn't the only person not satisfied with charter as another story on the same page cites opposition leaders denouncing the charter as "deathbed repentance" and "simple camouflage." New Democratic Party Leader, Stephen Lewis, said the Opposition would have supported most of the charters promises and that they should have been introduced earlier, but Mr. Davis waited until the middle of an election campaign when he is "shamefully anxious for a majority."

"That charter is not a list of promises, it's a list of failures," Liberal Leader, Dr. Stuart Smith, is quoted as saying. "It's a deathbed repentance."

The Ontario Committee of the Communist Party of Canada called the charter "cynical election gimmickery."

The story said NDP economist, Lukin Robinson, calculated that the promise of a million new jobs in the next decade would actually leave the province with a higher unemployment rate than it has now.

Referring to the charter promise of "continued support for the farming community" Mr. Lewis noted that farm incomes dropped 18 per cent in 1976, according to Government figures, and are expected to drop another 19 per cent this year.

Mr. Lewis reportedly dissected the 21-point document piece and said going by the Government's record it isn't credible the promises will be fulfilled.

Fund drive climbing for Monmouth Arena

The Monmouth Arena fund drive is moving along quite well, reaching a total of $25,000 to date.

Last weekend a beef barbecue and the South Algonquin Kinsmen Auction helped push the total higher.

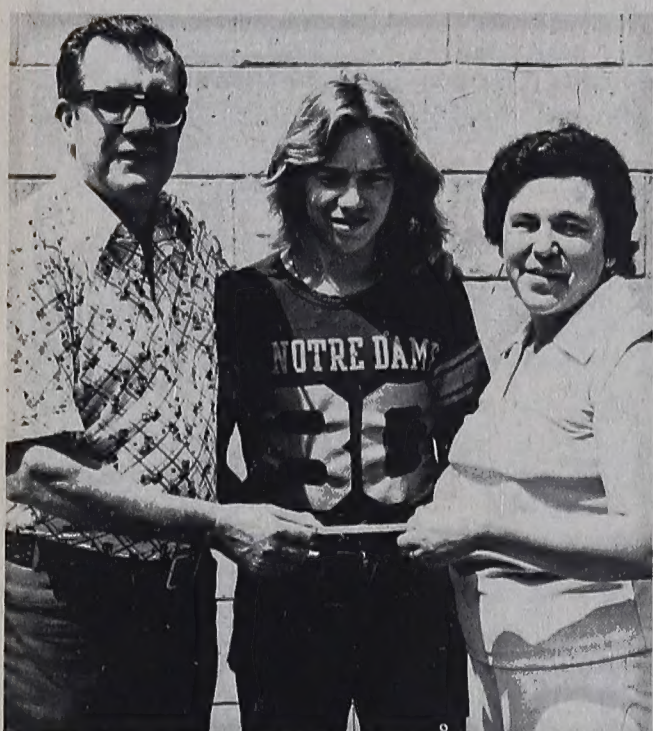

Another plus has been the sale of arena materials.

The old arena's demolition is being handled by the Monmouth Fire Department and the material is being sold.

Organizers of the fund raising campaign point out that there still is some steel left for sale.

The Wilberforce Youth Club will be holding a Fun Carnival June 25 to help raise money for the building.

Organizers of the drive are hoping that a lottery with a lakeshore lot being the top prize will give the fund a big boost. All proceeds from the draw will go to the arena fund.

Property owners planning to oppose subdivision

The Maple Lake Property Owner's Association plans to oppose the creation of a new subdivision in Stanhope Township on Maple Lake.

At a meeting held Sunday, at the Maple Sands Resort, member Dennis Lane moved "That this association take steps to oppose the new subdivision at the Norley and Airport Roads, and all similar proposals, at the Ontario Municipal Board.

Not only because of potential pollution, but also because it is contrary to proper planning for this area."

Steve Rickard, president of RSH Ltd. retained by Larry Van Lieshout to develop the property, was at the meeting to answer questions about and discuss the project.

"We felt that it was appropriate to involve the people for their input," he explained later.

The opposition arose after a motion from member Dave

Stir, that, "The association check with the Ministry of the Environment, municipalities, Pollution Probe, and all concerned agencies that this subdivision does not present a pollution problem," which carried.

Mr. Rickard said the Ministry of the Environment had approved the proposed septic tank system because the soil was classed as good for holding the sewage.

Mr. Stir noted that the ministry and Pollution Probe often disagree, "In fact they are complete opposites."

"This is not a complaint," he said. "I want that clear, as long as it's safely built, otherwise we (the cottagers) won't be worth a nickel. If it isn't safely built, you're going to have a fight."

Mr. Lane objected on the grounds that the area would be adversely affected not only by possible pollution but because it is poor planning to drop a village into an area indiscriminately. "Although the township does choose to call it a village, it is, in fact, a start for a village," he said.

Mr. Rickard said the 24-unit subdivision will be placed on Lots 29 and 30, Concession 5. It would be on high ground sloping towards the waterline, with low-lying land for park development between the houses and the water, he explained. He added that the developer plans to proceed this summer to sell lots.

Mr. Stir said that although the sewage might be adequately disposed of, phosphates and other nutrients stay in the soil and eventually get into the lake.

Art Wall, past president of the association, pointed out that the Ministry of the Environment recently reported that phosphate - nutrient pollution is the main cause of concern in the Haliburton area.

Mr. Rickard said later that he was not prepared to make any comment until he had had time to assess the situation.

Workmen's compensation to protect the workers

Fred McLaughlin, New Democratic Party Candidate for Victoria-Haliburton, said that the Workmen's Compensation Board's job is to protect workers but "try telling an injured worker that."

In a news release Mr. McLaughlin said, "Before the Workmen's Compensation Board was established in Ontario, in 1915, workers injured or disabled on the job had to sue their employers to get any compensation. The legal battles were often long and costly. The Workmen's Compensation Board was set up to provide adequate compensation to injured workers and to do it quickly and efficiently. Instead, the Board has turned into a cheap insurance scheme for employers. The Board acts as if its major function is to keep the payments required from employers to a minimum, rather than to protect workers."

He noted that the Board starts every claim with the assumption that it is unjustified. An injured worker has to prove to the Board that a claim is valid - often fighting with the Board every step of the way. The barriers they throw up in the way of workers are well known - delayed claims, unfairly refused claims, poor treatment of workers, suspicion of the worker's claims. But, there are also problems with Ontario's WCB that even a humane Board would not change.

Mr. McLaughlin said "Pensions are paid on the basis of degree of disability and not on reduction in ability to earn. Thus, for example, a person who is totally deaf as a result of twenty years underground mining is entitled to a maximum pension of only 30 per cent in spite of the fact that he or she probably cannot get other work. The NDP believes that workers injured on the job should be compensated for their reduction in earning ability, not just for degree of disability."

Pensions are not indexed to increase in the cost of living or to average wages. The last increase in pensions was in July of 1975. Since that time, the consumer price index has increased 10 per cent and the average wage in Ontario by

By 10:30 the room was reasonably full and dancers were on the floor with music provided by the Mystics of Peterborough. Highlighting the band sets were spot dances for prizes and at the beginning of each set, a door prize.

The first spot dance went to Sue Child and Peter Thompson. Miss Child was asked later to draw tickets for the door prizes. The three door prizes were dinners for two at Mr. Fugler, Fireside and Austrian Village. The last door prize was picked by a girl from the floor.

Winners of the door prizes were: Melinda Wood, Haliburton; Linda Ingram, Minden; and Margaret Potts, Toronto.

The Mayfest attracted a few people in the County for the summer, or camping. Said one young man from a Welland CB club, "The only problem is the guys outnumber the girls."

Most of the crowd appeared to be in the married 20 to 40 age group, with the young single group concentrating in one quarter of the arena by the entrance. For many of them it seemed to be the first get-together since school got out.

For everyone, however, the event was a chance to get together with some friends. Almost everyone who got there early could be seen looking over their shoulder to see if someone they knew was coming in. Whatever it was to specific people, it was fun for all. One song by the band had the audience singing the chorus "Hey Bodilly" and lifting their arms. Of course, there was the inevitable birthday song which everyone joined with gusto, cheering and clapping at the end.

The air show will take place from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. on the day of the fly-in.

Caterpillars falling like rain in area

Haliburton County, as well as the rest of the resort area of Central Ontario is experiencing a plague of caterpillars that the Toronto Star described as "as falling out of trees like rain."

According to the Star story, the caterpillars have already eaten all of the leaves off hardwood trees in square-mile patches in the Parry Sound area and the outbreak will get worse before it is over.

"The hordes of inch-long black caterpillars, with white spots along their back, are forest tent caterpillars - which appear in the millions every 20 years," the Star story explained.

It points out in the story that the caterpillars have already reached the outskirts of metro Toronto.

The Star quoted J. A. MacFie, a fish and wildlife expert with the Parry Sound office of the Ministry of Natural Resources, as saying "They'll trip every broad-leaved tree - maples, oaks, poplars - at an incredible rate."

According to the Star story Mr. MacFie said that cottagers don't have to worry because the caterpillars do not eat furniture or people.

Arena is a good cause

The Dysart Arena might be losing money but it is all for a good cause. If there are any publicly owned arenas in the province that aren't losing money let them step forward and tell us the secret.

An arena raising money is not a crime. We need our arenas for the recreation they provide.

If the Dysart Arena is losing as little money as has been stated, then it is a winning proposition. Our youngsters use the building all winter to play hockey and figure skate. Some people even participated in public skating.

The Dysart Arena certainly could make money. The ice rental charges for figure skating and minor hockey could be raised in accordance to what it costs the municipality to operate the building. We could be paying $50 an hour for ice time. But why should we, when the arena is ours to begin with. If even the highest figure of losses are correct for the arena, then it is a pretty good bargain for the citizens of Dysart et al.

Help to survive

Due to the advanced age in which we live, with our modern technology we find ourselves involved in many world problems. We find it necessary to depend on each other in order to survive. Whether it be a gas shortage in the United States or the need for food and medical aid in Bangladesh, we become involved. It could be a local mine disaster with the thunder of falling rock, the screech of twisting rails, the rumble of moving earth, somehow we become involved.

In response to major and local tragedies the Canadian people, because of their concern, share both materially and financially. But listen, tragedy hits individuals every day - often not the kind that makes for headlines, but it's happening and will happen again. We must be prepared. The Salvation Army, an organization that serves in some eighty-four countries, is ready to deal with almost any crisis. However, they need your help. We should all be involved. Give to the Red Shield Campaign currently in progress.

Participation

Participation for both students and parents is an important aspect of our educational system. The schools in Haliburton County appear to have no lack of participation on anyone.

Last week more than 300 persons attended Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School's Activity Night.

In return the audience of parents, other students, and relatives were treated to an over two hour long show. Featured was a band performance, gymnastics display, choir singing by grade four classes and a staff-student floor hockey game.

The schools in Haliburton County have participation of this nature because of the hard work of the staff and students, but most of all the interest the parents take in the various projects, which in many ways makes all the work worthwhile.

Track team a winner

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School's track and field team has brought honour back to the area for the past five years, winning the Kawartha West Track and Field Championships.

A track and field team can only win this type of championship for five straight years because of the hard work and dedication of the teachers who take their time to coach and help the students train.

Activities such as track and field are as important in our school's curriculum as the academic subjects in the fact that to be a track champion, one has to learn to discipline himself to the point where he can concentrate better than the other competitors.

May the track and field team at H.H.S.S. continue to be a success for many more years to come.

It would seem that every city, town and village in Ontario is faced with violence. Haliburton County is no exception. The Village of Haliburton seems to have its share of this problem. The latest trouble occurred in Haliburton over the weekend. During last week municipal employees were busy painting the dock and some of the picnic tables at Rotary Beach. Apparently a can of paint had been left on the site and some person or persons came along and took the paint can and poured the paint all over the tennis court. Thanks to the members of the tennis club and the fire department they finally washed it off and cleaned up the mess. The question is "what kind of a society are we living in?" Surely to goodness these people have more to do with their time than going out and destroying public property.

We are certainly pleased to see our good friend Frank Hodgson home from hospital following a slight stroke. We were talking to Frank the other day and he was his usual jovial self. Frank, who in his great manner has surely been missed in his office and we hope that it won't be too much longer before he can return to work. Frank has always been one of my best friends who always has a smile on his face and a great sense of humour.

It seems to happen every summer when people let their dogs run loose at the Rotary Beach. A sign has been posted there telling dog owners that dogs are not allowed on the beach area. It's time that some people started to read these signs and action was taken by the municipality to enforce this law.

It seems that when some people are progressive and work hard for the community other people who do nothing like to sit back and criticize and run people down. We have a man in this community, by the name of Art Ward, who is a great guy, a great promoter, a progressive businessman, and a very community-minded citizen. Because he has been successful, some narrow minded citizens always like to take a cheap shot at him. He has been the spark plug of many projects in this community and it was through his untiring efforts that the tennis courts are at the Rotary Beach. We could go on and on with many of the things that we have in this community that he has worked so hard to get. He is at present the President of the Rotary Club of Haliburton and no one deserves this honour more than he does. At the present time he, along with the other members of the Rotary Club, are working hard to raise money for the Arena fund. What this community needs is more men like Art Ward.

It's no secret that the businessmen in both Minden and Haliburton are losing business trade to such larger centres as Lindsay and Peterborough. Some merchants will say we have been in business for one hundred years and we have always done well. Maybe so, but this isn't always going to be the case. New things are happening with the possibility of a shopping plaza moving in. It is our opinion that the merchants and business people in both villages should form businessmen's associations to promote their businesses and keep this money that is at present going to other areas, right here in Haliburton County. This can be accomplished by better promotion and more advertising.

We have heard a great deal of talk lately about the Toronto Blue Jays. Well, on June 30th our news editor, Jim Badgley and myself are taking our wives to Toronto to get a first class look at the new Toronto ball club who on this evening will be meeting the powerful New York Yankees.

We are certainly proud of the bands that have been formed at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School and the Haliburton Senior Elementary School. They are a great credit to their schools and their musical directors. It seems that when we have parades in the county, during the summer months, we seem to always be short of bands. We were wondering why we can't have these bands out marching and in these parades. It would be a wonderful idea.

Jim Webster, the Progressive Conservative Candidate, has opened his committee rooms in the building formerly occupied by Cooper and Pitts Real Estate and John Eakins, the Liberal Candidate has opened his committee rooms in the building formerly occupied by the Haliburton County Echo. Both committee rooms are on the Main Street in Haliburton.

The election campaign is in full swing in Ontario and in Haliburton County. The Liberals and the Conservatives have both opened campaign headquarters in Haliburton Village.

Both parties, I guess, are hoping that the flow of traffic heads in their direction. A person heading east on the Main Street can first find out why the Liberals are the party to vote for but if they continue in that direction will a little further up the street hear about the Conservatives. One has to figure that the last pitch you get has the best chance of convincing you so in the case above, the Conservatives have the edge. But, if you are heading in the other direction, the Liberals have the edge.

If signs won elections, the Conservatives had it all locked up the day after the election was called, but the Liberals have come on strong and ended up in the lead with a spectacular display on their campaign headquarters.

The opposition in Ontario, for those of you who wouldn't know in this riding, the New Democrats, seemed to have conceded Victoria - Haliburton for greener pastures.

As of yet, at least in Haliburton County, the NDP has made no visible effort to make themselves known.

As usual it is the same story from all sides during an election. Talking to both Liberal and Conservative supporters one finds out that the secret of winning is getting the votes out.

Well no matter how many votes get out, someone has to lose the election.

Anyway, I hope that the parties can get as many votes out as possible because it makes for a better election.

Dysart et al is continuing to get projects off the ground that will be of benefit for the entire community.

The senior citizen housing units will be built, likely next spring, and the word from the Ministry of Housing is encouraging for a geared to income housing development.

The Dysart Community Centre fund is still moving along but money is still needed. Contributions can be sent to Box 382, Haliburton.

As others see it

You clutch your $1 lottery ticket and wait for the draw on the television. Your blood pressure mounts as the camera pans from the happy, always clapping audience (lotteries are fun!) to the assistants conscientiously placing balls in selection machines (lotteries are fair!) to the announcer, who actually wishes you "happy, happy news of tax free goodies...tonight in Ontario.

Amid excruciating tension, he reads out the winning number...Too bad. But your chances at the big prize were minuscule anyway. The big winners in Canada's mushrooming $2 billion lottery industry are the government agencies that run it. Ticket sales in Ontario have increased from about two million every two weeks in May, 1975, to about six million tickets every two weeks this year. Sales in the Maritimes will increase 70 per cent in 1977.

Canadians will spend $20-$25 per capita on lottery tickets this year. More startling than ticket sales is the percentage of revenue retained as profit, writes Ian Brown in the Financial Post. Roulette returns about 95 per cent of the bettors' money; blackjack, 94 per cent; dice, 83-97 per cent; horse racing, 82 per cent. Lotteries return only 38 per cent - 40 per cent.

Such a return allows government lottery corporations an average profit of about 40 per cent of revenues. And it's free of taxes and guidelines.

The first official weekend of our tourist season brings the first of what is hoped will be a short list of "Tourism Horror Stories." It was a hot humid evening on Friday and everywhere tourists, tired and hot after a long drive were searching out cool refreshments. At about 10 p.m. there was 3 lines of about 15 people waiting for ice cream. At exactly 10 p.m. the windows suddenly slammed shut and the lights were dimmed - it was time to close! There was not even a warning to those that were at the back of the lines that they would not likely be served. Can you imagine how it would feel after standing in line for 15 or 20 minutes, and just when you are stepping up to the window it closes? If it was your first visit to Haliburton what kind of an impression would it leave you with, and what would you tell all your friends when you went back home.

Very possibly the owner of the business was not on duty and this was a decision of the staff on duty at the time. This owner would do well to attend the breakfast seminar we are holding on Wednesday, June 8th, on staff management. A good deal of time will be spent on how to motivate your staff, so that they will care enough to please your guests or customers and encourage their repeat business. The cost is only $3.50 to cover your breakfast and we will have you on your way back to work by 11:00 a.m. We would appreciate a phone call at the office from those of you who intend to be there so that we can make appropriate arrangements. The number is 286-1760.

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Assoc. held their annual meeting last Sunday afternoon.

Considering it was a hot sunny afternoon on a long weekend, the turnout would have to be considered exceptional. Gathered on the porch after the meeting, for coffee and sandwiches, with the old Donald Schoolhouse (now their clubhouse) as a backdrop, it looked more like a "Pic of the Past" than an avid group of snowmobilers planning the future of the largest snowmobile club in Ontario. The club is, in fact, now so large, and so active, that they must consider the hiring of a full time manager from early fall till spring. The success of this organization has had a great deal to do with continual improvement in our winter business.

The Haliburton Kinsmen are nearing completion of all their arrangements for the "Home & Cottage Show" to be held at the arena on June 17, 18, & 19. We understand there are just a few booth spaces left for merchants wishing to participate and Dick McLean, at 457-1052, will gladly accept your bookings for them while they last. Sounds like the club has done a terrific job on selling this show and we hope everyone makes a point of coming out to view the displays.

We have just received a request from the Ministry of Industry and Tourism for a listing of our coming events for fall (September, October and November). Don't take a chance that we may not know what your organization is planning for that time of year - call us today - the publicity is free.

We would like to welcome Dave and Sandy Willis to Haliburton, as the new owners of the Rockcliffe Hotel, in Minden. They have many plans for improvements, including opening the dining room on Sundays. We are sorry to see the O'Briens leave our area as they took a very active part in our community affairs. We wish them well in the future. Mr. W. Walker recently retired and turned over the reigns of Cedar Grove Lodge, Ingoldsby, to his nephew Jerry Walker and his wife Dale. Jerry and Dale have been married for less than a year and are looking forward to becoming a permanent part of our community. We hope you will make these folks welcome.

Scouts hold first Festival of Fun

The bag pipes' filled the air as the drummers played a marching beat. Haliburton's Legion Pipe Band strode down the aisle - the audience keeping time by clapping and tapping feet.

The event was the first Festival of Fun, held at H.H.S.S. by Haliburton and Minden scouts, May 19, to raise money for scouts going to P.E.I. for the Canadian Jamboree.

"The whole purpose was to bring together local talent for an annual event," said organizer, Gerry Feltham, chairman of the Minden Scouting Committee.

He said that next year the event will be held for some other charity as the scouts contribution to the Haliburton County community.

"There's tremendous talent throughout Haliburton County," he said. He explained that the festival is a means of giving expression to it and involving the community. "We're trying to get away from the may town versus your town concept," he adds.

The talent at the show received a warm welcome from the audience. As the Scottish dancing group went into their second dance the audience applauded loudly. The dramatic march down the aisles was at the end of the dances.

"If you didn't get involved with that opening then there's something wrong with you," said moderator, Lloyd Johnson.

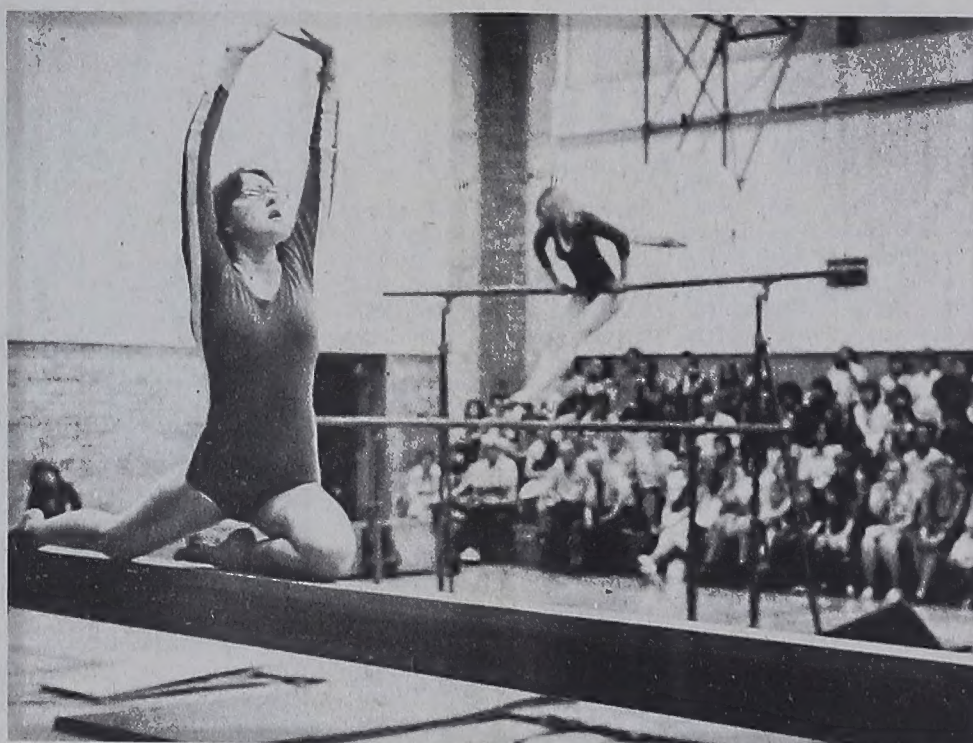

He told the audience involvement was the theme of the show. The next number was a sing-along to the tune of Southern Nights, a current popular song. The atmosphere was relaxed as the curtains opened and singer, Frank Wallace with bass player, Dick Stouffer set up their equipment. The buzz of the equipment didn't seem to bother anyone, and there were several chuckles when one of the two commented, "sounds nice, eh!"

The audience had been given the words to the song, but Mr. Wallace found their wasn't much singing until he reduced the words to "Da Da Da, as a last resort."

Other groups were listed as St. George's Choir, Nona Lynn Philip's Drama Group and the Blue Grass Missionaries.

After a short break the high school girl's gymnastic team put on display in the gym adjoining the auditorium.

The girls were followed by Cathy Kinsman singing, opening with one of her own songs. At the back of the auditorium an appreciative little girl, in a white blouse and long dress, whirled and danced in flowing style, reflecting the type of music.

The girl's style changed to the twist for the next act, the Highland Rock Band. She was joined briefly by two high school girls doing a more complicated step.

Meanwhile, on the top row of the gym bleachers four girls swayed back and forth in time with the music.

Throughout all of this a little cub was running all over the gym, chased by an older cub trying to keep him still.

The closing act of the night was the Guild of Fine Arts Community Choir. In announcing this act Mr. Johnson reported to the audience that the festival had raised about $280.

Mr. Johnson said later that application has been made to send 27 persons from the County to the Jamboree, 23 scouts and four leaders.

The cost of the trip will be somewhere between $4,000 to $4,200., said Mr. Feltham. The amount collected so far is about $2,900, he said.

"We hope to be getting some assistance from Wintario", he continued. "Haliburton has already received their grant." Nine scouts will be from Haliburton and 14 from Minden.

He said the show was unrehearsed, except for separate practices by the groups. He recalled that all he had to do was start phoning people three months ago and the show formed without any effort.

"It was an experiment," he said. "At the beginning we didn't know it would go - now we know it can."

Dick Stouffer, Cathy Kinsman and Frank Wallace (l-r) were the second act after the break. Mr. Stouffer and Mr. Wallace also performed in two other acts.

Physical fitness

EXERCISING INDOORS

These last few weeks I've been saying nice things about exercising outdoors. Now I must confess that just this week I've been driven to exercise indoors for a while. There are two reasons: bugs and hot weather. One could minimize these problems by exercising early in the day. But that is inconvenient for me so I've retreated until such time as the lake is warm enough for swimming.

There are other advantages to indoor exercise besides avoiding insects and hot weather. Some people prefer privacy to exercising in public. Some people cannot leave their children long enough to run or bicycle a few miles. Also, indoor exercise is a simple way to avoid the problem of changeable weather year round.

The most common indoor exercise is stationary running (or running in place). This exercise puts stress on the ankles. So, it is necessary to wear good running shoes, as you would for running. It is also a good idea to run on a thick mat. I have used a rubber-link outdoor mat and found it comfortable. You can time your rate of stepping by counting steps for 15 seconds and multiplying that count by 4. (Count 1 each time left foot touches floor.) If you're fortunate enough to have a metronome, you can simply set it at the appropriate speed and run to its ticking. You can run at a rate anywhere from 60 steps a minute, up. At 70-80 steps per minute you might start by doing 3 minutes and gradually work up to at least 17 minutes. Lift feet 8 inches off the floor.

If stationary running seems boring there are some things you can do about it. One is to listen to radio, T.V., or a record while you are running. Another is to vary the exercise. I tried running around through the kitchen and dining room doorways, occasionally doing a figure 8 to change direction. Another variation is stepping. Use one step. Put the left foot up, then the right foot up, then the left foot down, then the right foot down. This cycle would be repeated about 30 times per minute for 6 1/2 minutes at first. You would work up to 40 per minute for 10 minutes at least.

The next variation is closer to stairclimbing. You go up three steps, turn around and come down. Work up to 20 trips a minute for 17 minutes, or 25-30 trips a minute for 15 minutes. The problem with this exercise is that it may make you dizzy. The only other caution to offer about stationary running is that it is not advised for women after menopause. Women become more susceptible to bone weakening at this time, and more likely to suffer foot or ankle injury in this exercise.

Stair climbing, up and down 10 stairs, is a little less likely to cause dizziness. If the stairs are 6 to 7 inches high, at a 25-30 degree incline, you would work up to 11 minutes at 8 trips a minute. Slightly better than this would be 9 minutes at 9 trips a minute, and better still 8 minutes at 10 trips a minute. More than 10 stairs should not be used as there would be too long a rest in coming down. Wear shoes for this and hold on!

I've tried this exercise and did experience some dizziness from the turning.

If you have a stationary bicycle, you probably know how to use it. If you are thinking of getting one, look for an odometer, speedometer and brake resistance device. A timer is helpful too. You exercise at 15 to 20 miles per hour (or 60-80 r.p.m. if you are using a tachometer) and do a specific number of miles. As with other exercises, you work up gradually. The brake is adjusted so that your heart rate at the end of exercising is at a specific level which varies according to age. Other factors to consider in purchasing one of these bicycles is seat adjustment, stability of the frame, position of handlebars, chainguard, smoothness of pedal action.

The other piece of equipment which can be useful for fitness exercising is a treadmill. As these are very expensive, probably few people will be interested in buying one. If you do shop for one, keep in mind that you must use the treadmill without holding on. This can be difficult in some of the cheaper models.

There is one more indoor exercise which is fairly popular. That is rope-skipping. Any rope will do - no need to get the fancy, expensive models promoted for this purpose. Rope skipping exercises the arms, shoulders and upper body, as well as the legs. It is also a little less stressful to the ankles than stationary running. The goal would be at least 70-80 steps for 17 minutes, as with stationary running.

I should point out here that the goals I have published for most exercises are minimum goals for men. In most cases, if you do that much for 5 days a week, you will be getting adequate exercise to keep yourself in good condition. Of course, you may do more. It is not possible to put in this column all the potential combinations for getting enough exercise. As I've suggested before, you can refer to the New Aerobics, by Kenneth Cooper (Bantam Books) or order the Fit-Kit from Fit-Kit, Ottawa K1A 0S9.

Linda Morrison won the high average award in the Wednesday Afternoon Bowling League, while Ray Jenkins finished second. Linda's average was 226 while Ray had a 222.

1 1/2 cups unsalted butter (approx. 1/2 lb.)
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
1/8 tsp. salt
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
3 doz. lady fingers split.

Melt chocolate squares in top of double boiler over hot water. Combine granulated sugar, milk and egg yolks. Add to chocolate and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Cool. Cream butter well. Add 3/4 cup confectioner's sugar and cream thoroughly. Add chocolate mixture and blend well. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff, gradually beat in remaining 3/4 cup confectioner's sugar. Fold in chocolate mixture. Add vanilla. Line 9 inch spring-form-pan with split Lady Fingers (recipe to follow). Put in alternate layers of 1/3 of mixture and remaining split Lady Fingers. Chill overnight. Garnish with whipped cream and broken nuts with shaved chocolate.

LADY FINGERS

4 egg whites
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
5 tsp. sugar

Beat egg whites to foam, add cream of tartar and continue beating until stiff. Add sugar and beat 1/2 minute longer. In a separate bowl beat:

2 egg yolks
1/8 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
5 tbsp. sugar

Fold egg yolk mixture into egg white mixture. Fold in sifted together: 1 1/4 cup sifted cake flour and 1/2 tsp. baking powder. Form 3 inch Lady Fingers on a greased cookie sheet by dropping 3 1/2 tsp. of the mixture in a row. Fingers should be placed 2 inches apart on a cookie sheet. Cook at 450 degrees for 6-8 minutes.

1,350 view OPP police week show

About 1,350 people viewed the displays of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police during Police Week which was last week.

The displays were at the detachment until May 18 when they were moved to the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Police cruisers, a boat, a motorcycle, the hydro highliner safety display, as well as many items used by the detachment for policing, were exhibited.

The Minden detachment would like to let the people know that they are open for the public any day or any week.

Joe Williams coming to Minden Blues and Jazz Festival

Organizers of Minden's fourth annual Canadian Blues and Jazz Festival proudly announced this week that well-known blues and pop vocalist, Joe Williams, will head-line this year's edition of the festival.

One of just a handful of top-notch jazz festivals in North America. And sponsoring Minden Rotarians point out that their Blues and Jazz Festival is rapidly achieving international status among listeners and performers alike. This annual extravaganza will be held Saturday, July 30, at the Minden Arena with the concert beginning at 9 p.m. and spanning four hours.

Appearing with Joe Williams will be the Bernie Senensky Trio and, hopefully, with the assistance of the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, a second group of performers will be added to the fare.

This year's performer, Joe Williams, is a premiere blues and pop vocalist who began his career 40 years ago in Chicago.

Born in Cordele, Georgia, in 1918, Joe and his family moved to Chicago, the city of the blues, in the early twenties, where he launched his amazing career.

He first appeared professionally in 1937 with the late Jimmy Noone, and during most of the forties worked with local groups around Chicago.

In 1941 Williams sang with Coleman Hawkins big band and later vocalized with the Lionel Hampton band.

He also went on the road with Andy Kirk, spent a couple of months with the boogie-woogie piano team of Albert Ammons and Pete Johnson, and worked the Chicago clubs with Red Saunders.

In 1950 Williams first worked with the Count Basie band when they played Chicago's Brass Rail for ten weeks. At the end of 1954 Williams joined the Basie band as a permanent member.

A few months later, Joe Williams recorded what became one of Basie's all-time greatest hits, "Every Day I've Got The Blues." It was an old song he'd heard Memphis Slim sing and it became a smash hit.

"Every Day" won fantastic critical acclaim and commercial success for the Basie band.

Williams is one of the foremost urban blues singers to effectively fuse the blues with big band sounds.

But Williams was not content to be just another blues singer, and so ever-widened his circle of musical interest and capability. By the late fifties, Joe was singing more and more pop tunes. All this time, of course, he was recording with the Basie band and as a solo performer as well.

Then, in 1961, after six very successful years with the Basie band, Williams left to go it alone.

His first tour featured accompaniment by the Harry "Sweets" Edison Quintet; later he worked with the Junior Mance Trio.

Williams success continued to soar - he appeared at the Newport Jazz Festival. Williams toured England several times during the sixties, usually emphasizing pop tunes in his repertoire rather than the urban blues he began with.

In August, 1973, Joe recorded a live album with Cannonball and Nat Adderley, which is the first of many project albums for the Fantasy label.

Processed Meats

Processed meats offer endless possibilities for busy cooks. Not only for the lunch box, but for casseroles, hot or cold kabobs and hors-d'oeuvres. For a change, roast a bologna chub at 325°F for 15-20 minutes a pound (to 140°F internal temperature) in a barbecue sauce. Simply remove the wrapping and place bologna in a pan with a lid. Baste occasionally with the sauce.

"Binders" are added to processed meats to improve the emulsion stability, the cooking yield, the slicing characteristics and the flavour.

The law controls the amount of cereal, skim milk powder and spices that may be used in processed meats. So buy them with confidence, for they are nutritious, high-quality alternatives to your regular menu.

SANCTITY OF THE HOME (Cont'd. from last week)

According to the seventh commandment and the teaching of the Lord Jesus, the sanctity of the home is to be preserved by a strict adherence to the laws of marriage as first instituted by God. That is, one man and one woman united in a union that could only be dissolved by death. Where death occurred to one, the other was free to marry again. Romans 7:3 Marriage is an earthly institution and does not carry over into the next world. Matthew 22:23-30 It is true that good men like Abraham and David had more than one wife, but such unions were not sanctioned by God. It is also true that Moses permitted a bill of divorce, but Jesus told the questioning Jews that he did it because of the hardness of their hearts. The disciples, when alone with the Lord, asked Him for further light on this matter. Here is what He said: "Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her. And if a woman shall put away her husband and be married to another, she committeth adultery. Mark 10:11-12 Those words stand for all time and are applicable to all classes.

What Jesus set forth in the New Testament teachings, on the subject of divorce, is the rule for today. There are men, and women too, who seek for all kinds of trivial excuses for divorce. Some may be valid, but also some flimsy reasons for separation are given. Sometimes physical or mental cruelty is charged, sometimes desertion and failure to support the family. Very often, we are told, the legal grounds upon which the divorce is sought and obtained are not the real grounds at all.

Such was the case in the days when Jesus was approached by the leaders in Israel and asked Him if it was lawful for a man to put away his wife for "every cause?" In the answer that the Master Teacher gave, He by-passed the "cause" and took them back to the "beginning" of the institution as it was ordained for mankind. Genesis 2:18-20. Jesus emphasized the Divine origin of marriage. God made one woman for one man and one man for one woman, and these two were in a union more intimate than parents and children. Two persons thus united are considered one flesh. The Apostle Paul uses this truth again in his teaching about the Lord and His Church. Ephesians 5:28-33. How tragic that even those who believe in the security of the believer in Christ, are often on shaky ground when the problems of divorce present themselves. Have world standards been embraced?

The enormity of the sin of "unchastity" and its far-reaching evil is seen in the areas it works. It is a sin against the individual and begets moral indifference. It is a sin against the family circle. The nurture and education of the child is to be in the home. Anything that violates the sanctity of the home works havoc on the moral life of the child. Then it is a sin against society. Whatever affects the family affects the larger area of social life. A family that disintegrates morally, infects other circles. Thus is a sin against the nation. Whatever destroys the family and society, destroys in time the nation. It is a sin against the whole human race.

Thanks be to God that there is a remedy for this monstrous evil and its companions. The way to preserve the sanctity of the home is to begin right. For the true Christian, this would be to marry only "in the Lord; that is, marry only one who is a fellow believer in Christ. II Cor. 6:14. But more than that is involved, those thus united are to be filled with the Spirit and walk in the Spirit. Only then can true marital happiness be attained. Eph. 5:18-33.

Judge says he is against parental interference

Judge George Inrig told the Victoria-Haliburton Lung Association that he is not against sports or team sports but he is against parental interference in minor hockey leagues.

The annual meeting of the association was held at the Little Britain United Church last week.

Judge Inrig opened his address by referring to two movies, "On the Other Side of the Mountain" in which the girl had been goaded by her parents into entering skiing competitions, and "Bad News Bears" in which the parents were interfering with the running of a baseball team. It was at this point that he referred to two hockey incidents that came to his attention in his capacity as a provincial judge.

According to Judge Inrig a referee was accosted by an irate parent at the end of a Minor Hockey league tournament. "The parent who also sponsored the team that lost 12 to 0 asked for the referee's name and number, the official, not wishing to hold up proceedings lifted up the man out of the way. The irate parent lost his balance and fell against a skate sharpening machine. He required a number of stitches to close a gash on the head." The parent filed charges and the referee was found not guilty.

The second incident happened in an arena near Lindsay. According to Judge Inrig a parent became so incensed against a referee that the parent had to be ejected from the game. "The man, in the course of continuing his insults this time from behind the glass, proceeded to attack the referee's father when he was spotted," explained Judge Inrig. Charges were filed and the parent was found guilty.

The judge then referred to Team Canada. "Here we were supposed to have the cream of the crop and yet if one spoke against their conduct they were labelled a Communist." It was at this point that he made reference to the fact that he was not against sports.

"If the child has no respect for the rules of the game then what will be the attitude of the child in respect to the rules of society?" asked Judge Inrig. He was introduced by the Association Honorary Treasurer, Mrs. Vera Wood and

Joe Iles of Curry Motors, was part of an interesting trade last week. Curry Motors traded a car for an airplane. Joe went out to take a look at the airplane Curry Motors picked up as their part of the deal and took the car with him to the airport.

The Word of God

BY BRIAN V. SULLIVAN

There were a number of super-natural events that took place in the time of the birth of Jesus Christ. By super-natural, I mean outside the realm of natural occurrence. The first thing we want to bring to your attention is recorded by Luke. Please read the scripture account in Luke 2: 8-17. That's the first event. The angelic host has appeared to the shepherds, and they in turn have gone to see the Christ-child. The appearance of such a host of angels was not a natural event, but was in every respect super-natural, and of

God. The second event is one depicted by Matthew's gospel, Chapter two. Let's assemble the details. Matthew tells us that wise men came from the East to see the King of the Jews. The reason for their coming is set before us in verse two: "For we have seen his star in the East, and are come to worship Him." The threat of a King over the Jews seemed very real in Herod's mind, and Matthew tells us, he was troubled. Immediately he begins to gather the scribes and priests to find out where this Christ was to be born. They answered: "In Bethlehem." Still not satisfied, Herod privately calls in the wise men and talks with them, desiring to know when this star had appeared. Finally, he sends them on to Bethlehem, and commissions them to search and find the young child, and then to let him know where he was. They left the king, and the star which they were following, went before them, and stood over where the young child was. This was encouraging for them and they moved on with great joy.

Now listen to verse 11, from Matthew two: "And when they were come into the house they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh." Now, notice that Matthew said, "They came into the house where Mary and the young child were". Further, notice that we are not told how many wise men came. We do know that there were three gifts that were given, but we are not told how many wise men brought the three gifts. God warns them not to return to Herod, and so they depart into their country another way.

With Herod still awaiting the information from the wise men as to the location of the child; and the wise men returning home, God intervenes once more. Through a dream, an angel of the Lord appears to Joseph and warns him of the attempt of Herod to destroy the child. Joseph took the young child and his mother into Egypt and stayed there until the death of Herod. Herod, recognizing that he had been disobeyed by the wise men sets his fury loose and orders the destruction of all male children from two years old and under. Why two years old and under? Listen to Matthew 2:16: "according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wise men." By the time his murderous action had reached Bethlehem, the Christ-child had journeyed far to the South.

Canada
Day

For years I'd been hearing about Canada Day, an annual event at which Canadian writers come out of the woods or from under stones and allow themselves to be pestered by hordes of starry-eyed students and eager English teachers.

It was Jim Foley, a leprechaunish slip of a man, who spawned the idea originally, when he taught high school English in Port Colborne. Why shouldn't students have a chance to meet some real, live writers?

First year it was done on a shoe-string. Foley's students raised money by collecting beer bottles and other nefarious means. A few authors and poets turned up and talked to the kids. It was a great success.

Since then, it has grown in both scope and ambition, and is now a singular annual event in Canadian literature circles, with hundreds of students busing hundreds of miles, and a pretty good accounting of Canadian writers, good, bad and indifferent, turning up for their accolades.

Foley, who is no dummy when it comes to raising money, got publishers, a notably reluctant lot when it comes to spending money, to set up displays. He tapped every possible cultural well, from departments of education to Canada Council.

This year I attended, along with a young colleague who is a budding poet, and we had a good time and came home dropping names all over the place and buffing our cultural fingernails all over ourselves very ostentatiously.

"Well, after Margaret Laurence gave me a big kiss," I noted, "the whole weekend was just one mad whirl." This made by students sit up.

"Michael Ondaatje's beard is neater than mine," contributed my friend Roger," but I'm a better poet, and I told him so."

"At least half the writers there are regular readers of my column," I commented smugly. Three or five of them actually are, but wotthehell.

"We had breakfast with Mavor Moore and drove him to his seminar," Roger tossed in. And so we went on.

As a matter of fact, some of those things did happen, and some others that I have not intention of revealing.

Some rather interesting contrasts popped up. For example, the novelists seem to be rather a steady lot, in comparison to the poets, who had a tendency to get into the grape.

Age seems to have little to do with ability. Leslie MacFarlane, the grand old man who wrote the Hardy Boy books (and received about $50 each for them as total royalties) away back when, was honored at the same time as young Jack Hodgins from Vancouver Island, who has just published his first novel. There's close to sixty years difference in their ages.

And by the way, there's a young fellow to watch —

Hodgins. He was exhausted from a combination of jet lag and too many interviews in too short a time. But he gave it everything he had, in panels and quiz sessions. He's very handsome, very eloquent, and very enthusiastic, and I imagine the teenagers were swooning over him. Let's hope he doesn't get caught up in the snarling and backbiting that too often stains the Canadian culture scene.

Canadian publishers, on the whole, showed their usual uneventfulness, coming out of what seemed a deep lassitude only when John Roberts of the Federal cabinet said something about more help for publishers. That's the only thing that seems to stir them. Exceptions are a few small publishers, who show some verve and imagination in design and quality of books.

Farley Mowat's beard is almost as long as he is, but he has a nice wife. Pierre Berton is still combing his sideburns over his bald spot, but looks healthy and self-satisfied as ever. Suave Hugh MacLennan makes most of the other writers sound as though they'd just left Hayfork Centre. Yves Theriault, a popular Quebec writer, has a new and charming second wife who seems to like him. Lloyd Person, Saskatchewan novelist, still thinks I should devote a column to a review of his book if he sends me a copy. Mavor Moore doesn't comb his sideburns over his bald spot and looks fine just as he is. Poet John Newlove has eyes like two boiled eggs at a certain point in his progress. Some of the young fellows from Newfoundland put on the liveliest show of the weekend, with music and poems. Max Braithwaite and charming wife, fit and tanned, are just back from California, and they're making movies of a couple of his books.

Congratulations to our track and field team for retaining the Kawartha A Championship Wednesday, May 18, at Trent University, by a margin of 41 points. Event winners were Craig Kennedy, Bart Barnes and Tim Oram, with other qualifiers being Larry Stinson, Mike Iles, Tom Perrott, Darlene Danilko, Doug MacNab, Anne Marie Van Lieshout, Lisa Salvatori, Carol Lee, Kerry Hodgson, Angela Sisson, Dan Allison, Joe Roberts, Brent Collier, Brent Devolin and Steve Collier. The team will travel to Peterborough again for the COSSA meet on Tuesday, May 24.

The fashion show, "Wear and Tear '77", shown on Tuesday, May 17, was a success. Mrs. Kenny and the Year 4 Family Studies students did a great job in organizing this event. Congratulations to all the models; both male and female, demonstrators, organizers and behind-the-scenes helpers, who all contributed to the show's success.

May 16-20 was Police Week. Our local O.P.P. gave us a fine "Our Purpose Prevention" display, demonstrating crime prevention and many safety forms. The students were able to learn much about what our own police do for the safety of the community.

The first annual Festival of Fun, last Thursday, May 19, was a very enjoyable night out for all those who attended. The festival was held to support our local Boy Scouts on a trip this summer to P.E.I. for the Canadian Jamboree. Congratulations to our students and staff who participated: Miss Philp and members of the drama group, Miss Johnson and her gymnasts, Mr. Frank Wallace, Cathy Kinsman, the Highland Rock Band, Mr. Gliddon and members of his church choir, students and staff with the Scottish Dancing and Pipe Band, and our staff members who sang with Marilyn Stouffer's Guild of Fine Arts Community Choir.

Don't miss the Spring Concert on Wednesday, June 1, at 8:00 in the H.H.S.S. auditorium. Senior Band, Junior Band and Opus 17 will be featured. Be sure to come and support their last concert this year.

Maple Lake News

BY ADA GIBBS

Mr. & Mrs. David Martin, of Lakefield, visited with his mother, Mrs. Grace Martin and Mrs. W. Johnson over the weekend.

More local folk have returned from the south, namely Mr. & Mrs. Maurice Windsor, and the Victor MacBriens.

Get well wishes to all the people who picked up a virus or a flu bug on their travels. In some cases this was followed by inner ear infection which is a very difficult trouble to cure.

I observed a softball game in progress recently where the play was taking place on the Township property. Our Stanhope Recreation Committee are busy planning activities for young and older folk, as well.

A very happy occasion took place last Sunday morning at the Zion United Church service when the twin daughters of Mr. & Mrs. Warner Tomlinson were christened. Following the christening the Tomlinson's entertained friends and relatives to a delicious lunch in their home.

Mr. & Mrs. Syd Barnes spent Mother's Day in Seagrave with their daughter Barbara and her husband Lloyd Maschke. A return engagement will find the Maschke's at Carnarvon over the holiday weekend. As the cottagers flock in they find they have much to do to get the cottages open and more often than not it's the pump and the water systems that cause trouble. Syd will be glad to have Lloyd's help.

Mrs. Ward is at her cottage this week. Last year we saw little of the Wards as Mr. Ward was ill. Now Mrs. Ward is recuperating after heart surgery. We wish them better health this year and a happy summer.

Best wishes to Minnie Dawson who has just returned home after further surgery in Peterborough.

The annual clean-up bee held by the congregation of St. Peter's Church was a huge success. Of course, there is always more that could have been done had time allowed. We were pleased to have Rev. D. Brown drop in for a few minutes. He found 6 or 7 men busily engaged in the cemetery and the church grounds, while he could hardly move around inside without meeting a woman with a dust mop, a scrub pail, a vacuum cleaner, or a waxing outfit. However, we finished in record time and after our lunch hour the men carried on outside while an A.C.W. meeting was in progress inside. We believe in killing two or three birds with one stone and it usually pays off. Many thanks to all who turned out to make our church and grounds beautiful. Don't forget we'll be glad to see you at our 9:15 a.m. services.

On Thursday of last week Miss Ada Gibbs visited with friends of her teaching days in Dorset, Miss Kate MacKay, Mrs. Ruth McLennan and Mr. & Mrs. O. Avery.

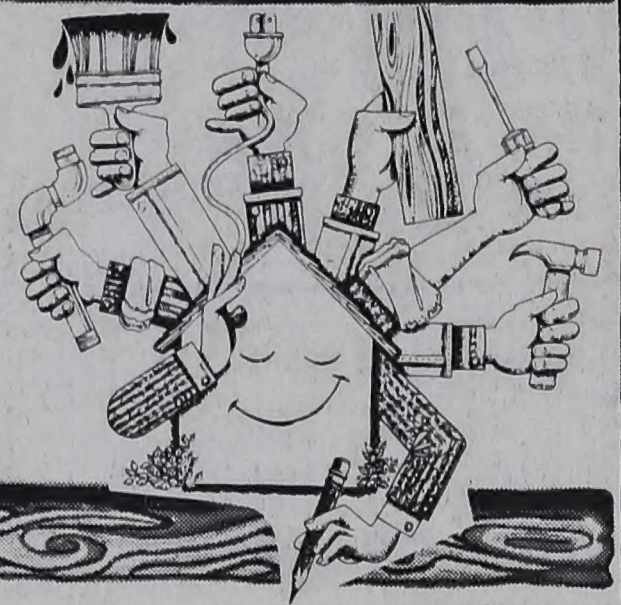

Mrs. Margaret Gardiner has opened her cottage, on Little Boshkung Lake, for the summer and will have Peter and Sharon for the holiday weekend.

Neighbours and friends are sorry to learn that the Arthur Beavor's have sold their cottage on Maple Lake. This younger family has been an interesting addition to our community and since we have watched the boys and Linda grow they will be missed. Mrs. Beavor, who is a soloist in an Oshawa church, has helped out with the music at St. Peter's on several occasions. Our sincere thanks, Katherine, for sharing your beautiful voice with us.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family and friends of Mrs. Wesley Welch, whose funeral was May 21 at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Home of the Week

DUTCH COLONIAL CHARM
Plan No. 76-2624

Traditional styling and the cost benefits of two-storey construction make this house a bargain in space and year-round contentment. In addition there are some exceptional living conveniences - efficient floor space - well scaled rooms. Careful detailing highlights the exterior with an authentic Dutch Colonial roof, old brick veneer and covered entry.

This home is designed for a large family, five bedrooms, and ideal for entertaining on the grand scale. The front foyer opens to the den on the left and the large living room on the right, with a direct route to the nook and kitchen at the rear.

On side of the kitchen is a family size dining room, with an open arch to the living room and on the other side is a large, practical nook with two stairs down to the family room. This room, as well as having a raised hearth fireplace for those cold winter nights, has sliding glass doors to the patio, for that outdoor summer weather.

The utility in the family area is a prime asset with the washroom, storage for outside garments and the washer and dryer. Also, a direct entry from the garage and thus the outside, puts the utility to full family use.

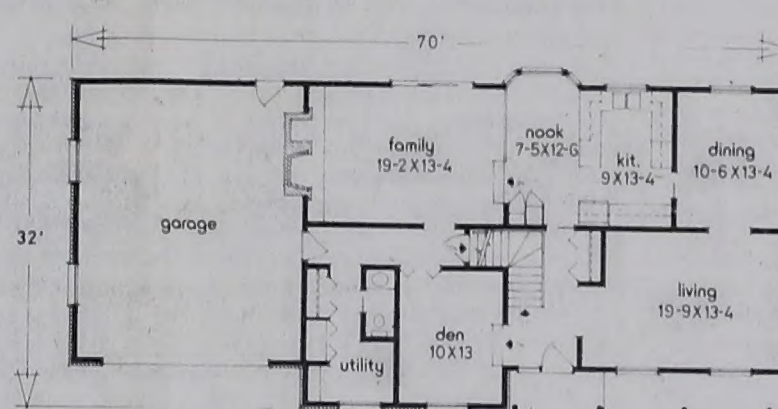

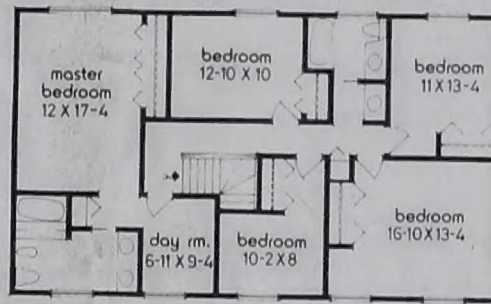

From the inner hall, adjacent to the family room, stairs lead to a full unfinished basement, suitable for future development.

On the second floor, four good size bedrooms are serviced by a twin bathroom, where both bath and vanity can be used at the same time in complete privacy.

The master bedroom is a complete, luxurious suite. In addition to the large bedroom with double wardrobes, there is a day room, which can be used as a quiet sitting room or maybe as a nursery or sewing room. The bathroom is the ultimate in design, his and her twin vanity, Roman style, sunken bath and a French bidet.

Plans for design No. 76-2624 may be obtained at a cost of $70 for the first set and $9 for each additional set, plus $3.50 for postage and handling. B.C. residents please include 7 per cent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs, Series #33, featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus more than 300 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling). To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week. Along the Trails

WITH ROY BATES

The turnout of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association general meeting, May 22nd, was very encouraging to the board of directors. Some forty members who might have preferred to go boating or swimming in the very hot weather of the day, came to the clubhouse to help chart the course of the H.C.S.A.'s next season. The board will go on with fresh enthusiasm and renewed vigor.

President Ken Fielding chaired the meeting and opened with a summary of the year's work. He described the various trail projects - development and maintenance, the funding received from the MNR, LIP and Wintario, and indicated areas where further development is desirable. A breakdown of the club's financial transactions showed a turnover of more than $40,000.00 which works out to $120 for each of the 338 members. Not a bad return for a small membership fee! Regular payments on the Bombi-purchase bank loan have reduced the club's indebtedness to approximately $6,000.00 and the second Bombi was paid off completely.

In the general business session of the meeting, several matters of concern were brought to the floor and resolutions were approved, empowering the board to take such action as deemed feasible to deal with them.

1. Membership fees. Faced with rising costs on all sides, the board will consider methods of increasing revenue from memberships. Proposed was a small added fee for families with two or more machines, with special decals for each sled showing the year of membership paid. Some revision of Commercial membership is also suggested.

2. Part time manager. The board will consider the advantages of hiring a manager for Fall and Winter to relieve the workload of directors. It is felt that such a person could more than pay his way through improved contact with funding agencies and potential supporters.

3. Trail user fee. Each year the HCSA spends a great deal of time and money developing and maintaining snowmobile trails which, by virtue of the funding received, must be open to the general public. Open but not necessarily free. They are not "free" to the club member who contributes to their upkeep through his membership. They should not be provided "free" for anyone else.

Snowmobilers will argue that payment of their snowmobile registration fee is contribution enough. We admit that it helps. But the portion of funding last winter, derived from registrations, amounted to only $4.00 for each of the (estimated) 1650 sleds registered in Haliburton County. A far cry from the $120.00 raised by or granted on behalf of each of the 338 members. Granting that each membership might represent two machines, it is still a contribution fifteen times that of the non-member!

The HCSA is determined to end this rip-off of its members! One way or another!

It was the intent, at this meeting, to elect a new board of directors. Since a number of the persons nominated were unable to be present, it was not possible to complete the elections at this time. The existing board was empowered to fill vacant seats by appointment.

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association is alive and well and living in Ontario's winter playground.

News from Extendicare

Stuart Belisle left us Friday the 13th to be a resident of a nursing home in Renfrew. He was very helpful and co-operative and we wish him the very best.

In our early grade IV years, in 1910, we were taught that 10,000 years ago the great glacier pushed the great Canadian shield, nearly a mile deep, nearly across Northern and Southern Ontario. There was a question of the sufficiency of the underlying bonding. In view of the mercury pollution in our Muskoka Lakes that same question may profitably be reconsidered.

Our choice for resident of the week is Mrs. Ada Pacey, one of the pioneers of the Haliburton area, always pleasant and quite co-operative in the various activities among the residents. Born Mary Ada Shickler, in Cardiff Township, her early years, like most girls of the era, were devoted to hard work with not much time off. She was educated at Harcourt Public School. In 1918 she travelled to Alberta to meet former childhood sweetheart Henry E. Pacey and and broken ribs. Van Nood was taken to Peterborough Civic Hospital.

Gross has been charged with careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

A Scarborough youth has been charged with careless driving as the result of a single car accident on Highway 35 just north of the Haliburton county line, May 19.

Paul D. Cassel, 16, of Scarborough, was charged when, according to the Minden detachment of the OPP, he went onto the east shoulder of the highway, then crossed the road entering the west ditch, rolling over.

There was $1,000 damage to the car.

A single vehicle accident on County Road 10, May 16, resulted in $8,000 damage to a tractor trailer owned by Martins Lumber. There was also $2,000 damage to a load of woodchips.

Driver of the truck was

He finished saying, "Let's move forward with strong and active faith in Ontario and Canada, centred in a government with stability and purpose."

LISTINGS INVITED

marry him. After their twins were born, and after one died, they returned to Ontario and settled in Harcourt. Their 5 remaining children are doing well, except one who is crippled. Mrs. Pacey has been widowed these past 10 years.

At Extendicare she gets security not otherwise available.

Monday we planted our garden - onions, potatoes, turnips, radish, carrots, peas, and a trial at cantaloupe. Quite a number of our residents participated. Such is always a good excuse to make such a chore an adventure. Wednesday we transplanted marigolds, an event that interested many. Holy communion was held for the residents on Tuesday morning, the Rev. Trevor Denny of St. Georges Anglican Church officiating. There is usually a very good attendance on these occasions.

Mrs. Lila Simmons arrived back Wednesday, after a pleasurable visit with her daughter Betty, at Sudbury. It is nice to get away, but somehow or other they like to get back.

The other day Pat asked Mike "Why is a man climbing a volcano like an Irishman trying to kiss a girl?" Mike answered, "That's easy, he is trying to reach the crater's mouth."

Thursday evening 30 of us, unable to walk, were taken by bus to the Festival of Fun and that is what it was in a super way. All of the numbers were in fine form. Cathy Kinsman will go places. The Mumfords were superb and the gymnasts were excellent. All the staff and participants deserve to be congratulated, especially the combined choirs.

Our devotional period was held Friday morning as usual, with Mr. Jim Cooper of The Gideons Bible Society as our spiritual leader. He compared the Bible to a compass, one needed for flying, the other for living.

Last Thursday evening our senior executive, Miss Sheila Elston, while playing softball with the Haliburton Ladies softball team, turned her ankle while running in outfield. An X-ray, taken the next morning, revealed a fracture which resulted in the application of a cast. Since then she has not been so freely mobile. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

Tent circus
Touring circus
coming to town

On Thursday, June 9, the unique sounds, sights and smells of Canada's only touring tent circus will seep into the hearts and souls of children of all ages in Haliburton, as the all new 1977 edition of the Martin and Downs Circus presents two performances, at 6 & 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of the local Royal Canadian Legion.

Designed strictly for family audiences and billed as an old time tent circus, the Martin and Downs Circus will present 15 trained animal and variety acts to please young and old alike.

Adults wishing to relive childhood memories or to introduce their children or grandchildren to the magic of the big top are invited to the showgrounds at the Arena grounds on circus morning to see the raising of the big top and the feeding of the animals.

Under the big top, the land of spangles and mirth; you will enjoy such favourites as: esteemed equine exhibitions of liberty horses, the antics of clever canines, trained llama and performing mule, aerial artistry on the trapeze and spanish web, juggling and balancing stars, the rib tickling antics of the clowns and, of course, the circus elephant. Fun and excitement for the whole family at family prices.

Also on the circus grounds open before and after each main show performance will be the circus animal and children's petting zoo, the giant killer Python snake exhibit, and circus pony rides. All these attractions are available at a separate nominal charge. Remember...Save money and help your local sponsoring organization. Buy your advance discount tickets ahead of show day from various local stores and members of the Royal Canadian Legion. Advance tickets will not be on sale circus day. Bring the whole family and see the circus as it should be seen under the big top.

your own vacation

Spring and summer are happy times for most Canadians. Don't let fire spoil your family's vacation. Last year, according to the Dominion Fire Commissioner, 822 people died in 39,750 residential fires in Canada. Some of these deaths occurred in flaming cottages.

Cottage owners, ensure that your family is well protected. While getting your cottage ready for a safe holiday season, General Time of Canada Limited, manufacturers of the Westlox Smoke Signal, urges that you check your cottage carefully for potential fire hazards.

The Smoke Signal people recommend you:

- Check electrical wiring for fraying and loose connections.
- If you have smoke detectors in your cottage, test them according to the manufacturer's instructions to make sure they are operating properly. If your Smoke Signal units are battery-powered, why not install new batteries just to be on the safe side?
- Take a little extra time with your family to review alternate escape plans so they know what to do if the smoke detection alarm sounds. These extra few minutes could mean the difference between life and death.

- Check to make sure fuel tanks and lines are free from leaks.

- Never store gasoline in or near the cottage.

- Give some thought to fire prevention. If you don't have a smoke detection system, now might be the time to install one. Your local fire department could offer timely advice in this matter.

- Check that your chimneys are open and free.

- When leaving your cottage for any length of time, always shut off the hydro and fuel supplies.

Water news

Navigation on the Waterway opens today (Friday, May 20). The locks are open 7 days of the week from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. These hours are in effect until June 25, when they are 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Boaters are asked to note that they should be at a lock half an hour before the closing time for passage, unless otherwise announced by the Lockmaster.

Lockstations are also open to the public for picnics or as a quiet place away from the hustle and bustle. Picnic tables and washrooms are provided at most lockstations for the visitors' use. There is only one thing we ask, kindly place your garbage in the receptacles provided and help keep the site clean for the next user.

On May 16 we came to the end of our spring control procedures with the storage water in the Reservoir Lakes very close (within 1 per cent) to the target level of 90 per cent.

Kawartha Lakes storage was lower by about 3 per cent than the desired level, but all the lakes were well within their navigation ranges and held steady through May 20.

By May 19 reservoir storage had dropped to about 88 per cent due to dry weather and increasing the flows from very low amounts to normal summer minima. This should improve water levels through Shadow Lake area and the Maple and Beach Lakes area. Hawk Lake and Hall's Lake levels are being raised slowly toward the same percentage as the others.

Otonabee River flows have been held steady in the range of 600 to 800 cubic feet per second (normal summer minima).

Uh, let's see. Irving Layton is getting old, just as he threatens in his poems. I don't know why Mrs. Jim Foley doesn't go out of her nut, running interference for Jim. Politicians, about eight of them, insisted on welcoming everybody, to everybody's dismay. Al Purdy looks as though he needs a week in a rest home. Poet Don Guttridge's wife, Anne, enjoyed driving us back to the motel when my driver ran out of steam.

There you are. Just a few notes from the literary scene by a non-hero-worshipping weekly columnist who knows that when you peek behind the talent, the writer is just a dogbody, like the rest of us.
